TPT Index-Linked Gilts Fund Overview

This investment fund invests in UK government bonds, or 'Gilts'.

If governments wish to raise money, they can borrow it from investors for a specific amount of time in return for a set rate of interest. This process is called selling bonds. A UK government bond, or 'Gilt', is effectively an 'IOU' from the UK government. In return for the cash, the UK government usually makes regular interest payments before repaying the initial amount borrowed at the end of the agreed term.

The Index Linked Gilts Fund invests your money by buying UK government bonds with interest payments that are 'linked' to the value of the Retail Price Index. Investing in government bonds is generally less risky than other types of investment, such as shares, although the potential rewards are lower. It's important to remember, however, that growth is not guaranteed, and the value of any investment can fall as well as rise and you may not get back the same amount that you initially invested.

What types of funds does it invest in?

Gilts: Loans typically made over a fixed period to governments that entitle the owner to a fixed annual interest amount followed by a return of the loan amount at the end.

How does it invest?

The Fund invests only with the UK government and the type of Gilt it invests in is linked to the value of the Retail Price Index. Bonds or Gilts are available for different time frames or 'maturities'. Maturities can range from a few months to over 40 years. Generally, the longer until the repayment date of a bond, the more its price is likely to fluctuate over time. This Fund invests in a range of maturities of at least 5 years.

What are the risks?

Interest Rate Risk: The risk that the value of your bond investments will fall if market interest rates go up and the locked in fixed yearly interest rate on them looks less valuable.

Counterparty Risk: The risk of losing money due to one of the parties failing to meet their obligations.

Reinsurance Risk: The risk of your savings not growing, or falling in value in the event of a failure by an insurance provider.

What currency does this fund trade in?
